Chatbots

We may use chatbots to help provide customer service and support, including through the use of a virtual assistant. A chatbot is a software application that mimics human conversations in text interactions on our Site. It enables the communication between a human and a machine. The chatbot is designed to work without the assistance of a human operator and is designed to respond to questions posed to it in natural language as if it were a real person using a combination of pre-programmed scripts and machine learning algorithms. While a chatbot aims to offer accurate and helpful responses, its information may not always be exhaustive, up-to-date, or tailored to individual circumstances.

If you use a chatbot on our Site, we will collect any personal information you provide to us. We will also create and store a transcript of your chat interaction with us which will be shared and stored with our third-party service provider for the chatbot service. We use these transcripts for quality control, customer service, fraud prevention, and security. We do not assume any liability for actions taken based on the chatbot's responses. By using our Site and our chatbot, you acknowledge and agree to these terms.

Cookies and Similar Technologies

What are first and third-party cookies? A "cookie" is a small file created by a web server that can be stored on your device (if you allow) for use either during a particular browsing session (a "session" cookie) or a future browsing session (a "persistent" cookie). "Session" cookies are temporarily stored on your device and remain there until they expire at the end of your browsing session. "Persistent" cookies remain stored on your device until they expire or are deleted by you. Local shared objects (or "flash" cookies) are used to collect and store information about your preferences and navigation to, from, and on a website. First-party cookies are set by the website you are visiting, and they can only be read by that site. Third-party cookies are set by a party other than that website.

What are "similar technologies"? In addition to cookies, there are other data collection technologies, such as Internet tags, web beacons, pixels (clear gifs, pixel tags, and single-pixel gifs), and navigational data collection (log files, server logs, etc.) that can be used to collect data as you navigate through and interact with a website. For example, web beacons are tiny graphics with unique identifiers that are used to understand browsing activity. UTM codes are strings that can appear in a URL when you move from one web page or website to another. The string can represent information about your browsing, such as which advertisement, page, or publisher sent you to the receiving website.

What cookies and similar technologies are in use on the Site? The Site uses cookies and similar technologies to improve Site functionality, to measure and track how you interact with the Site, to perform analytics, to market to you, to track ad-driven activity, and to otherwise tailor our communications with you. Our Cookie Preferences can be found in the footer section of www.abberlygrove.com.

Other third-party technologies. Some third parties may use data collection technologies to collect information about you when you browse the Internet. We do not control these third parties' technologies or how they may be used. If you have questions about targeted content, you should contact the responsible party directly or consult their privacy policies.

Choices about cookies and similar technologies. Most web browsers are set by default to accept cookies. If you do not wish to receive cookies, you may set your browser to refuse all or some types of cookies or to alert you when cookies are being stored. These settings may affect your enjoyment of the Site's functionality. Adjusting the cookie settings may not fully delete all of the cookies that have already been created. To delete them, you should review your web browser settings after you have changed your cookie settings. If we charge a fee, the amount will be based upon the administrative costs of providing the information or communication or taking the action requested.

Non-Discrimination. You have the right not to receive discriminatory treatment by us due to your exercise of the above rights. We do not discriminate against individuals for exercising their rights under applicable law.
