

Website Privacy Policy — Bowden Living LLC

Last Updated: August 1, 2026

Bowden Living LLC ("Bowden Living," "we," "us," or "our") is committed to protecting your privacy. This Privacy Policy explains what information we collect through this website (the "Website"), how we use it, and the choices available to you. By using this Website, you agree to this Privacy Policy.

This policy applies only to information collected through this Website, including through electronic communications such as our Contact form. It does not apply to information we collect offline or that is collected by third-party sites linked from this Website.

1. Information We Collect

Information you provide to us. When you voluntarily submit information — for example, through our Contact form, a purchase, or a service request — we may collect your name, phone number, email address, mailing address, and similar details. We use this to respond to your inquiries, fulfill orders or services, and send you updates you've requested.

Information collected automatically. As you browse the Website, we automatically collect certain technical information, including your IP address, browser and device type, pages visited, and general usage patterns. We use cookies and similar tracking technologies (see Section 5) to support this. This data helps us understand how the Website is used and improve it; we do not use it to identify or track individual visitors' reading habits.

We do not knowingly collect more information than is reasonably necessary for the purposes described here.

2. How We Use Your Information

We use the information we collect to:

- Respond to inquiries and provide the products or services you request
- Process transactions
- Improve and maintain the Website
- Send service-related updates or, with your consent, marketing communications
- Comply with legal obligations

We do not sell your personal information, and we do not share it with third parties for their own marketing purposes.

3. When We Share Information

We disclose personal information only in these limited circumstances:

- Service providers: We may share information with contractors who help us operate the Website or our business (e.g., hosting, email, payment processing), under obligations to protect your data and use it only for the purpose we specify.
- Legal requirements: We may disclose information if required by law, subpoena, or government request, or to protect our rights, property, or safety, or that of others.
- Business transfers: If Bowden Living is involved in a merger, acquisition, or sale of assets, your information may be transferred as part of that transaction, subject to this policy or a successor policy.

4. Data Retention

We retain personal information only as long as reasonably necessary to fulfill the purposes described in this policy, or as required by law. When information is no longer needed, we take reasonable steps to delete or de-identify it.

5. Cookies and Tracking Technologies

We use cookies, pixel tags, and similar technologies to operate the Website and understand aggregate usage patterns. You can disable cookies in your browser settings; the Website will still function, though some features may be less convenient.

Our Website does not currently respond to browser "Do Not Track" signals.

If we use third-party advertising services (such as Google or Facebook remarketing) to show ads to past visitors on other sites, those providers may use their own cookies, governed by their own privacy policies. We encourage you to review those policies directly.

6. Your Choices and Rights

You may contact us at any time to:

- Request access to the personal information we hold about you
- Request correction of inaccurate information
- Request deletion of your personal information
- Opt out of marketing communications (via the unsubscribe link in our emails or by contacting us directly)

We will respond to reasonable requests within a reasonable time. We may need to verify your identity before fulfilling certain requests.

Note for California residents: If you are a California resident, you have rights under the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), including the right to know what personal information we collect, request its deletion, and opt out of the "sale" or "sharing" of personal information (Bowden Living does not sell or share personal information for cross-context behavioral advertising as defined by the CCPA). To exercise these rights, contact us using the information in Section 11 and specify that you are a California resident.

7. Children's Privacy

This Website is not directed to children, and we do not knowingly collect personal information from anyone under 13 without verifiable parental consent, consistent with the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA). If you believe a child under 13 has provided us information, please contact us and we will delete it.

8. Data Security

We use reasonable administrative, technical, and physical safeguards to protect your information, including firewalls and access controls. However, no method of internet transmission or electronic storage is completely secure, and we cannot guarantee absolute security. Any information you transmit to us is at your own risk.

Breach notification: In the event of a data breach affecting your personal information, we will notify affected individuals and any applicable regulators as required by law.

9. Links to Other Websites

This Website may contain links to third-party sites not controlled by Bowden Living. We are not responsible for the privacy practices or content of those sites and encourage you to review their policies before providing any information.

10. Changes to This Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in our practices or applicable law. The "Last Updated" date above reflects the most recent revision. Material changes will be posted on this page; your continued use of the Website after changes take effect constitutes acceptance of the revised policy.

11. Contact Us
