B. Sharing Personal Information for Personalized Advertising

In this Privacy Policy, "sharing" means disclosing a consumer's personal information to third parties for cross-context behavioral advertising or targeted advertising. "Cross-context behavioral advertising" refers to the targeting of advertising to a consumer based on the consumer's personal information obtained from the consumer's activity across websites and applications, other than those with which the consumer intentionally interacts. In the preceding twelve months, LIV has "shared" personal information with third parties for the purposes of personalized advertising. Specifically, LIV has shared identifiers, contact information, and internet or other similar network activity with advertising vendors in the preceding twelve months.

C. Selling Personal Information

In the preceding twelve months, in limited circumstances LIV has sold personal information to a third party website analytics provider within the definition of “sale” provided under California law, specifically, Cal. Civ. Code § 1798.140(ad). Such “sales” include the following data categories: identifiers and internet or other similar network activity. However, LIV does not sell personal information in exchange for money and does not knowingly sell personal information pertaining to minors under the age of 16.

We use reasonable administrative, technical, and physical security measures to protect the personal information we retain and to help ensure that it is used in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

We will retain your personal information for the period necessary to fulfill the purposes outlined in this Privacy Policy unless longer retention is required by law or for auditing purposes. To determine the appropriate retention period for personal information, we consider applicable laws, the volume and nature of the personal information, its purpose, and the potential risk of harm from its unauthorized use or disclosure.

5. Cookies and Tracking Technologies.

A. Cookies

Our websites may use “cookies” and other tracking technologies to gather information about your interactions. This information may include demographic data, browser type, IP address, pages visited, activities conducted on the page, and the day and time of your visit. Our websites may use both session Cookies (which expire once you close your web browser) and persistent Cookies (which stay on your computer until you delete them) to make your experience on the website more personal and interactive. We do not currently honor “do not track” signals from a web site browser. Please refer to your computer browser help instructions for more information on cookies and other related technologies and how to manage their use. If you refuse or delete cookies, you will need to repeat the process if you use another computer or change browsers. If you refuse or delete cookies, some of the functionality of our websites could potentially be impaired.

B. Analytics Services

Our websites may use Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google. The information generated about your interactions with our websites is generally transmitted to and stored in a Google server in the USA. On our behalf, Google will use this information to evaluate your use of our websites, to compile reports on website activity, and to provide us with other services related to website activity and internet usage. The IP address provided by Google Analytics within the framework of Google Analytics will not be merged with other data provided by Google. You can prevent the storage of cookies by a corresponding setting of your browser software; however, please note that if you do this, you may not be able to use all the features of this website to the fullest extent possible. You can prevent the collection by Google Analytics by clicking on the following link. An opt-out cookie will be set to prevent future collection of your information when you visit this site: <http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>. For more information about Terms of Use and Privacy, please visit <https://policies.google.com>. We point out that on this website Google Analytics has been configured to ensure de-identified collection of IP addresses (so-called IP-Masking).

C. Web Beacons

Pages of our websites may also contain small electronic files known as web beacons (also referred to as clear gifs, pixel tags, and single-pixel gifs) that allow us, for example, to count users who have visited those pages. We may use this information to provide a better website user experience, and tailor our marketing communications.

Please note that We use Meta Pixel by the Facebook social network, operated by Facebook Inc. Meta Pixel is a code snippet placed on our website. Meta Pixel allows Facebook to identify the visitors of our online content as a target group for displaying advertisement (known as “Facebook ads”). Accordingly, we use Meta Pixel to display our posted Facebook ads only to Facebook users who have shown an interest in our services or who share certain factors (such as interests in certain topics determined on the basis of visited web pages), which we transmit to Facebook (which is known as Custom Audiences). Meta Pixel also helps us understand the effectiveness of Facebook ads for statistical and market research purposes, by showing whether users have been redirected to our services after clicking on a Facebook ad (known as conversion, and allowing to determine on which devices a user is performing an action), in order to create so-called lookalike audiences or statistical twins (i.e. to broadcast ads to target groups that are similar to existing customers) and to obtain comprehensive statistics about the use of the website. Meta Pixel establishes a direct connection to the Facebook servers when you visit our website. This way, the Facebook server is notified that you have visited our website and Facebook assigns this information to your personal Facebook user account. For further information about the collection and use of data by Facebook and your privacy protection rights and options, please see the Facebook data protection policy at <https://www.facebook.com/about/privacy/update>.

7. Other Important Information.

You expressly relieve LIV from any and all liability arising from your use of any third-party website, or from the content of any third-party website.

B. Children's Privacy

Such information is provided by the child's parent/guardian when the child is intended to be an occupant of one of our communities. C. Changes to our Privacy Policy
